BUYERS' GUIDE

Consult It Before Buying

All The Leading Idaho Houses In Every Line

1735238

Looking at the list of all those who sell—the modern way of buying goods.

The man who buys without looking at the list of those who sell does himself a gross injustice.

Using the classified directory of the whole State is like going to the market place; it brings to view each and every individual in any and all lines of trade, and here the intelligent buyer may select the best of everything at the lowest price.

The habit of using the classified directory will save large sums of money and will always secure the best in any line. It is the modern, up-to-date method of getting what you want.

To the advertiser the State Gazetteer is the most economical and effective method of saying what he has to say to the entire population.

COLLECTION AGENCIES

COLLECTIONS

Collecting is our business and not a mere side line. We are acquainted with Idaho Laws, Idaho Conditions, and Idaho Debtors, and know how to get results. For ten years we have been doing the largest and most successful collection business in Idaho and every year is larger than the preceding one. We are young enough to want your business and old enough to know how to handle it. We are members of the National Association of Mercantile Agencies, which has representatives in every town and city in the United States. We publish a rating book for Southen Idaho and Eastern Oregon, and this fact gives us a leverage over all other competitors in handling collections. Outlawed and disputed accounts are adjusted by personal representatives in the field.

KENYON, CASSIA CO., IDAHO

Kenyon the Town that is NOW

In the exact center of a circle twenty miles in diameter—ten miles in every direction from it—Kenyon, the latest addition to the new towns of Southern Idaho, is located.

Goose Creek Valley, the acknowledged best lands in Idaho, than which there is none more fertile, deep soiled or productive in the West, heads in at Oakley, and from that point to Snake River, 25 miles distant, this matchless body of land lies like an open fan, the most perfect irrigation system in the West.

Kenyon in embryo is flanked on the south by the Twin Falls Goose Creek project, on the north and east by the Minidoka project.

Kenyon will have every advantage in the way of transportation, being located on the Oregon Short Line Railroad, midway between Burley and Oakley. The whole country being nearly flat, the wagon roads are good.

Almost on the townsite of Kenyon is the junction of the historical Oregon trail and the Boise-Kelton road.

Kenyon contains 640 acres of land, 200 of which are now platted into blocks and lots.

In the rapid settling of a new country many miles in advance of railroads, in every direction from it, Kenyon, the latest addition to the new towns of Southern Idaho is growing.

Cassia County, Idaho, the acknowledged best bank in Idaho, more wheat to the acre, more fruit, more alfalfa, more sugar beets, more potatoes, more dairy products, more than pays for irrigation, more cattle, more sheep, more horses, more poultry, more than pays for the high priced irrigation system in the West.

Kenyon in entire is located on the south by the Twin Falls Canal, 3 miles north of the north and east to the Minidoka project, Kenyon will have every advantage in the way of transportation, being located on the Oregon Short Line Railroad, halfway between Burley and Declo. INTRODUCTION.

This is the seventh biennial edition of Polk's Idaho State Gazetteer, being the fourteenth year of the publication. The name of Polk is a tower of strength in directory making. From New York to Honolulu and from Alaska to the Panama Canal, the name of Polk signifies the superlative degree in directory making. For more than a half century, R. L. Polk & Co. have published city directories, state gazetteers and national trade directories throughout the Union.

They have for many years, published all the city directories in the state of Idaho. They are organized exclusively for directory making. No other house possesses equal facilities for gathering data for directories promptly, accurately and completely.

It is only when other directories are published in competition with Polk's that the superiority of Polk's is clearly evident.

The Association of American Directory Publishers offers a reward for the arrest of fraudulent directorymen who go about the country getting subscriptions and advertisements for directories and collecting money who give nothing in return. They print a few names of persons who pay for the work but as a work of reference, the book they deliver is absolutely worthless and all the money they have received for subscriptions and advertising is a complete loss to those who have contributed. If you would have the best in the directory line, see that the contract calls for Polk's publications and you will be fully protected at all times.

The Gazetteer is the best known and most generally used work of reference in the great state of Idaho. There is nothing more conducive to the growth of a community than a well-arranged gazetteer, giving all the facts that may be sought throughout the whole state. It affords the best means of communication between the people and this is highly beneficial to the merchants for it brings the market to one's door. It brings everything to view at a glance in this whole great state of Idaho. It brings the products of the country to the city and it takes the wares of the city to the country. It affords the best means of using the Parcel Post. It affords all the people in their respective places of knowing what is going on in other places, what products are offered for sale and what opportunities offer [illegible] for business.

Polk's Idaho Gazetteer contains an alphabetical list of all the cities, villages, postoffices and settlements in the state. Each place is fully described, giving everything of value to the traveller or to one who may wish to know about another community. Following each sketch is a list of persons doing business in the place, giving all corporations, co-partnerships and individuals. The officers of corporations are fully enumerated; the members of co-partnerships are related in full. Then, there is a complete classified list of all pursuits, trades and professions. These classified lists form special and complete trade directories of each and every pursuit.

Besides the alphabetical list of places and persons and the special trade directories, there is a miscellaneous directory which gives a description of the state from its earliest settlement to the present day, showing its development in agriculture, mining, manufacture, population and trade, giving the location of all water courses, railroads and lakes in the state; describing the contour of the surface, giving the altitude, the area of public lands and mining and timber industry; a list of public schools, state officers, state institutions and the names of all officers of state boards and associations and executive officers.

The publishers take pleasure in expressing their thanks for the uniform courtesy extended to their representatives and for the liberal patronage bestowed upon this work of the people.

Respectfully,
The Publishers,
R. L. POLK & CO.

STATE OF IDAHO.

By Fred R. Reed,
Commissioner of Immigration, Labor and Statistics, Boise.

Idaho is one of the newest states in the union in its comparative development. There is an abundance of evidence that the development and equipment of farm lands, industrial life, private homes and the state institutions of Idaho is more modern and satisfying to the normal, sturdy citizen than can be found in a similar developed area in older states. The following table indicates something of the rapid growth and development of Idaho during the past several years:

IDAHO, THE "GROWINGEST" STATE IN THE UNION.

The consistent, rapid growth as shown by these tables must indicate that Idaho has a just claim to the slogan "The 'growingest' state in the Union." The reason is easily understood. The mining industry, which gave the state the first employment and wealth, has produced constantly and consistently. Investors operate upon well-defined lines and have largely eliminated speculative uncertainty.

The live stock upon the open ranges furnished the first agricultural development. Earnings from the mines and ranges have built comfortable homes, business blocks, established banks, built railways, sawmills and constructed gigantic irrigation enterprises.

Agriculture, as applied to all domestic farm products, will always be the state's greatest wealth producing resource. Closely allied is agriculture as related to the forests of the state.

Mining and the range herds will continue to be important affiliated industries that furnish profitable employment to large numbers and will yield even larger financial returns in the future. Manufacturing is making steady progress. Transportation is now having its greatest growth. With the further development of the Columbia-Snake River water course, more regular boat service will be established to Lewiston, Idaho, which is the most interior seaport of the entire northwest. The district is destined to become of vast strategic importance in transportation matters.

Most of the larger development enterprises have had the guiding influence of a pioneer hand. This always inspires confidence with outside capital. Idaho laws were carefully framed, avoiding the errors that caused grief to sister states.

Even after the withdrawal of large forestry areas, there are yet millions of acres of land still available for agricultural and mineral development.

There are several contributing factors why Idaho will continue to grow and develop as a wealth producing state and appeal to a high type of citizens.

The climate and natural environment are superior. The range of the Rockies to the east and the Cascades to the west protect the inter-mountain district from devastating storms that levy heavy tribute against crops, property and human life in the less favored regions. There are, therefore, almost no devastating risks to be carried.

There are large areas of very superior agricultural lands that have natural fertility that produce a wide range of wealth-yielding crops.

The water supply is without doubt superior and more dependable because of the high altitude and naturally protected drainage areas that will forever remain under the direction of the state and national governments and serve as a perpetual insurance policy. The citizens have realized that growth and evolution were calling for readjustment almost continuously. Fortunately, the element of speculation has been "soft-pedaled" and the investor and homeseeker who come in to share our responsibility and our "health and wealth dividends" have been attracted because of the real merit of the community and state resources. This has given the state a degree of stability not commonly found in a new state that is growing rapidly. An unusually high type of citizens with modern, progressive ideas have established homes and become a part of the state's activities.

The total area of the state is 8,480 square miles or 54,272,000 acres, of which nearly 40 per cent or 19,013,813 acres is within the National Forests, with nearly as large area of unappropriated and unreserved lands.

The classified lands now assessed in Idaho in 1912 are shown as follows:

	Number of Acres in Idaho.
Irrigated and Agricultural Land	2,072,090.83
Dry Farm Land	810,612.12

Standing Timber	1,711,362.00
Cut-over and Burnt Timber Land	601,158.00
Suburban Land	30,057.85
Orchard and Vineyard	29,059.76
TOTAL	7,479,400.18	7,479,400
Acreage within National Forests		19,013,813
Acreage unappropriated and unsurveyed		18,970,393
Acreage entered under Carey Act but not yet patented		540,988
Acreage owned by the state, part of which is leased; lands that have been entered under desert, homestead, timber and mineral act, scrip and other forms for which patent has not yet matured and therefore not assessable		8,267,406
		54,272,000

The stockmen will be interested to know the location of the grazing land available within the National Forests. The public domain outside of the National Forests is available for grazing without a grazing fee.

Those desiring to enter public lands should inquire directly of either of the five federal land offices which have jurisdiction over all entries in their respective districts. Boise, Blackfoot, Coeur d'Alene, Hailey and Lewiston.

The seventh biennial report of the State Immigration Commissioner, Boise, contains a great deal of detailed information concerning the state of Idaho. It is a large, beautifully illustrated magazine which costs 11 cents postage. It is mailed to prospective homeseekers and investors upon receipt of the postage.

The following climatological schedule for the State of Idaho by counties furnishes information upon elevation, temperature, precipitation and sunshine. This data was prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, Boise, and shows a fair average for a series of years.

The topography of the state varies greatly and accommodates many needs. The lowest elevation is 600 feet and exceeds 13,000 feet in the high mountainous districts. The lower elevations allow a long grazing season and comparatively mild winters which permit the growing of tender varieties of fruits and nuts.

HORTICULTURE.

The horticultural division of agriculture has had a remarkable development during the past few years. The apple crop is yielding very profitable returns chiefly because of the superior natural environment for this crop. Southwestern Idaho has become one of the world's chief prune producing districts. Other fruits are extensively grown but the apple and prune are the principal fruit crops.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

The following table indicates something of the magnitude of the beet sugar industry.

YEAR 1912—
Idaho Falls	5,244	50,000	14,250,000
Sugar City (1)	7,159	70,000	19,000,000
Blackfoot	4,971	41,000	10,856,500
Burley (2)	3,000	25,500	4,500,000
Total	20,374	186,500	48,606,500

(1) This includes the acreage produced for the Parker auxiliary slicing station.
(2) New factory, just opened in 1912.

GENERAL AGRICULTURE.

Diversified farming as applied to general agriculture will always be the state's chief source of wealth. With the vast acreage of irrigated lands and the rapidly enlarged area that is being brought under cultivation by applying dry-farming methods, it is freely predicted that Idaho, within a few years, will be producing not less than four times the present yield of wheat, or about 60,000,000 bushels annually which is more than is being produced in any one state at the present time. Live stock upon the farms is increasing in a satisfactory way. Range cattle, however, have decreased in number. The live stock industry will yield the largest returns of any one branch of agricultural pursuit. The unusual amount of superior grazing furnished by the domestic pastures, particularly under irrigation and the regulated cheap grazing available in the National Forests and upon state lands will continue to support vast numbers of range stock.

MINING.

Idaho has for many years been an important lead and copper producing state. Producing properties yielding practically all of the precious metals are found in practically all parts of the state, but the largest properties are found in the northern part.

IRRIGATION AND POWER.

Co-ordinate with the development of the great irrigation systems, several large hydro-electric power plants have been installed which generate great quantities of electricity which is widely distributed over extensive transmission lines. It is fitting and proper that the natural waters of our lakes and streams should furnish the town and farm homes with the most important factor in modern comfort,—electricity. The following table indicates something of the development of irrigation farming. Very great progress has also been made in the districts where irrigation is not needed,—particularly on the cut-over lands in the northern part of the state.

STATE AND SECTARIAN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

The State of Idaho has made liberal provision for those of her youth who, having completed the primary, intermediate and high school courses desire to continue their education.

Almost a quarter of a century ago the legislature of what was then Idaho Territory established the University of Idaho, locating the institution at Moscow in Latah county.

An Agricultural Experiment Station, co-operating with the United States Department of Agriculture, is now an important adjunct of the University School of Agriculture. Branch experiment stations are conducted at Clagstone, Caldwell, Gooding and Aberdeen.

The high standard maintained and the strong faculty employed has given the University a place of high rank among similar institutions in other states. Our young men and women are enabled to fit themselves for engaging in the professions, arts and trades. The success that has attended our university graduates who have gone forth is testimony of the efficiency of the institution.

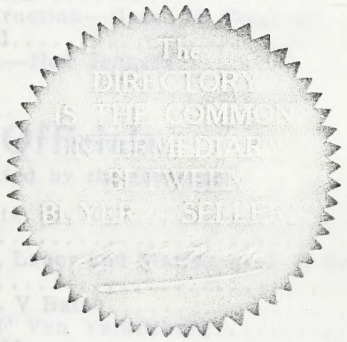

Dr. K. C. Babcock, specialist in Higher Education in the United States Bureau of Education, says of our State University: " * * * The University of Idaho surprised me by the excellent quality of its equipment in buildings, grounds and laboratories. * * * The quality of the faculty is surprisingly good, both as to training and experience. Conditions are such that it has a better degree of stability than have several other of the State Universities of the west. * * * "

The number of students enrolled in the university for the year 1912-1913 as shown by the December (1912) report was 709. This enrollment represented seventeen states and two foreign countries.

Idaho supports two state normal schools, one at Lewiston and one at Albion. These schools are well equipped, and offer exceptional advantages for preparation to the young man or the young woman who expects to engage in the profession of teaching.

The Academy of Idaho, located at Pocatello, the Idaho Industrial Training School at St. Anthony, and the State School for Deaf, Dumb and Blind at Gooding are other state educational institutions with excellent records.

In addition to the various state institutions of learning, there are scattered throughout the state many schools supported by various churches. Among these are the College of Idaho (Presbyterian) at Caldwell, St. Margaret's Hall, (Episcopalian) at Boise, Ricks Academy (Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints) at Rexburg, and the Academy of the Immaculate Heart of Mary (Catholic) at Coeur d'Alene. The Methodist church has in contemplation plans for the establishment in the state of a high grade college. If these plans materialize this institution will in all probability be located at some point in the southern part of the state.

Mining claims hereafter located upon veins or lodes of quartz, or other rock in place bearing any of the metals or other valuable deposits mentioned in section 2320, of the Revised Statutes of the United States, may extend to three hundred feet on each side of the middle of the vein or lode; provided, that when the locators have set, posts or monuments, to indicate the line of the vein, ledge or lode, such stakes, posts or monuments must be taken for the purpose of such location, to mark correctly the line thereof, and such line must not afterwards be changed so as to affect rights acquired or interfere with any locations made subsequent thereto.

The locator, at the time of making the discovery of such vein or lode, must erect a monument at such place of discovery, upon which he must place his name, the name of the claim, the date of discovery and distance claimed along the vein each way form such monument. Within ten days from the date of discovery he must mark the boundaries of his claim by establishing at each corner thereof, and at any angle in the side lines, a monument, marked with the name of the claim and the corner or angle it represents; also at the time of so marking his boundaries he must post at his discovery monument his notice of location, in which must be stated:

The fee for administering the oath and recording the foregoing affidavit, when taken before the county recorder or deputy mining recorder shall be fifty cents. Such affidavit, or a certified copy thereof in case the original is lost shall be prima facie evidence of the performance of such labor.

The location of abandoned claims shall be done in the same manner as if the location were of a new claim; but the locator may instead of sinking a new discovery shaft, sink the original discovery shaft ten feet deeper than it was at the time of his location.

A Persistent Advertiser

One of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe.

He believed in advertising—
He knew what he wanted—
a ship—
And he put up an ad for one.

He flung a shirt on a pole at the top of his island; that, in the language of the sea, was plain to every seafaring man.

The circulation was small and there was no other medium, but Crusoe kept it there despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time. He changed his copy—as one garment after another was flapped out—and in the end got what he wanted, was happy and his name and fame have come down through the ages.

The present day merchant is much better off than Crusoe.

HE HAS THE CITY DIRECTORY

through which he can reach all the people, some of whom want his goods. Your chances of success are thousands to his one, but your chances of failure are the same as his.

Suppose Robinson Cruso had taken down that signal after, say, a year, and declared "Advertising doesn't pay." Where would he and his story now be?

Put up your signal and keep it up. There will be a number of ships cruising around during the year, that will be glad to call and take you off the island of Dull Business.

Crusoe advertised under discouraging circumstances—
You have got a sure thing—THE CITY DIRECTORY.

We want a Big Ad from You this Year

CALDWELL, IDAHO

IN addition to the commercial side of our business, we operate a Special Department devoted to the making of finely printed books, catalogs, and pamphlets wherein we specialize in halftone work in black and colors. We have every facility for handling this, and most of the notable halftone work done in Idaho bears our imprint. The Caxton Bindery, with its force of skilled workmen brought direct from New York City, strengthens us in the production of art book work, by enabling us to deliver it in any binding, from Hand Tooled and Decorated Levant Morocco, down to plain Cloth. Let us know your wants and we will gladly submit samples and estimates.

The county seat and the second largest city in the state, known as the "Gate City," situated in the center of the old Fort Hall Indian reservation, which extends for 25 miles in either direction, but which has now been opened for settlement and is rapidly becoming the home of substantial settlers. Located on the main line of the O S L, at the junction of the Ogden & Butte branches, 170 miles n of Salt Lake City, Utah and 244 s e of Nampa and also on the Port Neuf river, which flows into the Snake river, 18 miles w. The O S L railroad shops and offices are located here, and are the largest of their kind between Omaha and the Pacific coast, employing about 600 men, their monthly payroll exceeds $150,000. and the county is named after his tribe, thus perpetuating the name of the once great warrior and his famous tribe. The city was first settled in 1882 and incorporated in 1889. Among the public buildings are a two-story public fire station, well equipped with up-to-date apparatus, and represents an investment of $16,000; an opera house, which cost $30,000; two school houses, $70,000; St Joseph's church, a hospital, an academy, a college, a fine court house and numerous business blocks. Has also a fine water works system, which is capable of throwing water direct from the hydrants over any building; an electric light plant, which brings its power 25 miles from the Snake river at American Falls, and there generates a power of 4,500 horsepower, and represents an investment of a quarter of a million dollars, and can furnish power to industrial uses of all kinds; a gas plant, a commercial club, a public library, 5 banks, several hotels, 2 creameries, 2 brick plants, a brewery and a planing mill, 2 newspapers the Tribune (daily and semi-weekly) and the Chronicle (daily) are published. TWIN FALLS. Pop 8,000. Twin Falls county. The county seat and a flourishing city on the O S L 252 miles n w of Salt Lake City and 180 miles s e of Boise. Has Adventist, Baptist, Catholic, Christian, Christian Science, Dunkard, Episcopal, Latter Day Saints, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, several graded school buildings costing over $100,000 and a high school building costing $200,000, a number of first class hotels, 3 banks, a flour mill, 2 creameries, a public library, several theatres, a commercial club, a planing mill, a modern and well equipped hospital, 2 nurseries, electric light, gas and water plants and a sewerage system. $300,000 worth of paved streets have recently been completed and a county building costing $150,000. Three newspapers the News (daily), the Chronicle (weekly) and the Times (semi-weekly) are published.

Twin Falls is in the midst of the largest irrigating enterprise in the United States. The water is diverted from the Snake River at Milner 23 miles above Shoshone Falls where a $1,000,000 dam is constructed. The electric power plants are located at Shoshone Falls and Lower Salmon Falls which furnish an unlimited supply of electricity for both light and power. An electric railway is being built to Shoshone Falls. In the midst of such enterprises Twin Falls is bound to prosper and always will be a distributing point for settlers in this highly favored region. Twin Falls is the natural gateway to the Jarbidge Gold Mining district of Northern Nevada. Irrigated land sells from $40 to $75 per acre with fully paid up water rights. Im-

A Persistent Advertiser

One of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe.

He believed in advertising—
He knew what he wanted—a ship—
And he put up an ad for one.

He flung a shirt on a pole at the top of his island; that, in the language of the sea, was plain to every seafaring man.

The circulation was small and there was no other medium, but Crusoe kept it there despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time. He changed his copy—as one garment after another was flapped out—and in the end got what he wanted, was happy and his name and fame have come down through the ages.

The present day merchant is much better off than Crusoe.

HE HAS THE CITY DIRECTORY

through which he can reach all the people, some of whom want his goods. Your chances of success are thousands to his one, but your chances of failure are the same as his.

Suppose Robinson Cruso had taken down that signal after, say, a year, and declared "Advertising doesn't pay." Where would he and his story now be?

Put up your signal and keep it up. There will be a number of ships cruising around during the year, that will be glad to call and take you off the island of Dull Business.

Crusoe advertised under discouraging circumstances—
You have got a sure thing—THE CITY DIRECTORY.

We want a Big Ad from You this Year
